Learning Objectives

1. Summarize stories and connect story events to life experiences.
2. Distinguish fantasy from reality and fact from make-believe images.
3. Use helping verbs and simple present tense accurately.
4. Draft a narrative with an introduction, body, and conclusion.

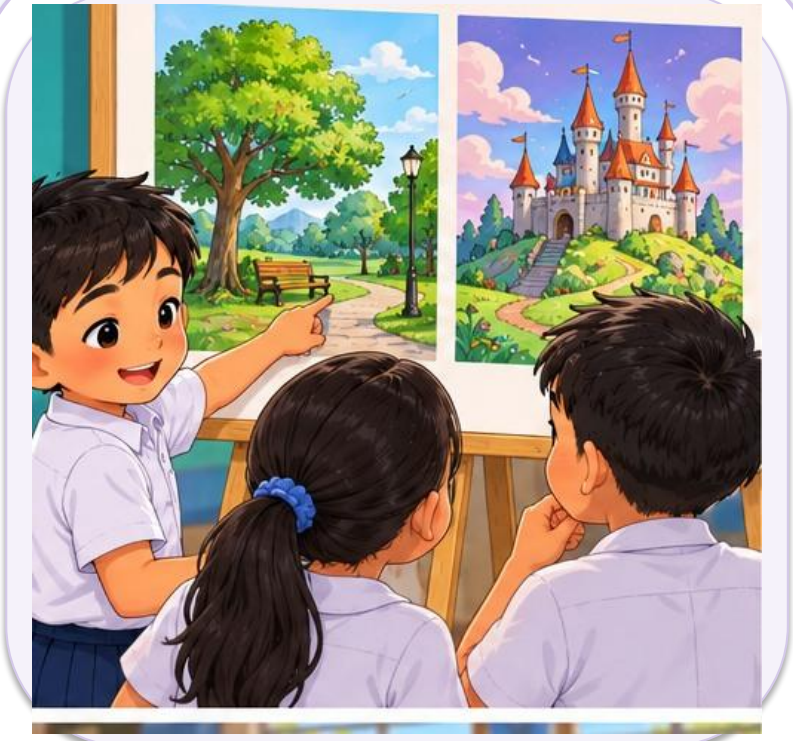

Explain and apply these skills after the lesson.

Meet the story

Read: Mia found an injured bird near her school gate.

1. She informed a teacher and helped place it safely away from traffic.
2. An adult contacted someone who could care for the bird.
3. Later, Mia wrote about her experience.

LOOK • THINK • SHARE

Think, discuss, and support your ideas with an example.

What are story elements?

Elements explain who, where, and what happens.

1. Characters: Mia, a teacher, and the bird.
2. Setting: near the school gate.
3. Events: finding, asking for help, and caring for the bird.

LOOK • THINK • SHARE

Think, discuss, and support your ideas with an example.

How to summarize

A summary gives only the most important parts of a story.

1. Tell the main characters and problem.
2. Include a few events in their order.
3. End with how the situation was resolved.

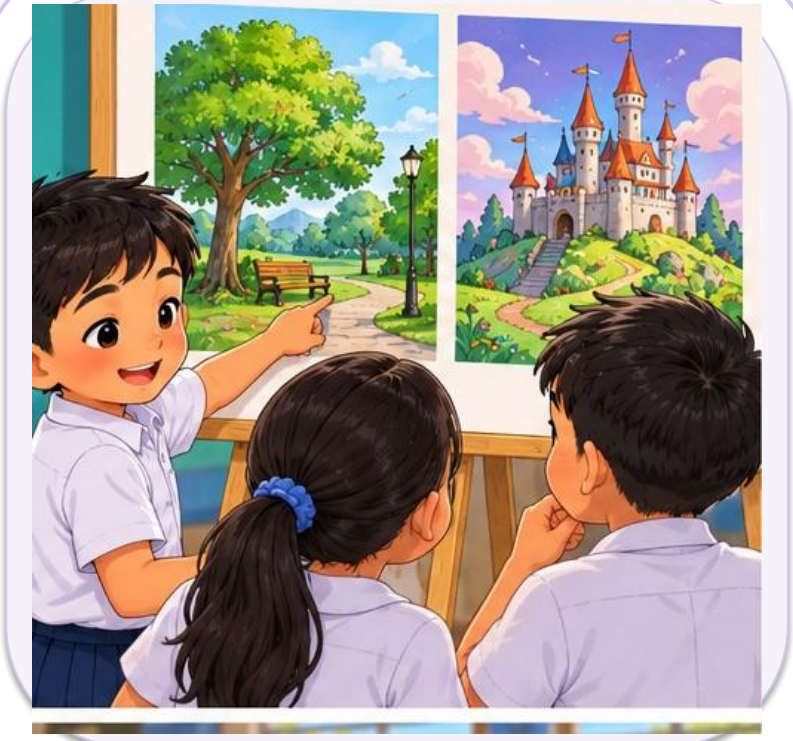

LOOK • THINK • SHARE

Think, discuss, and support your ideas with an example.

Example of a short summary

Listen to a summary of Mia's experience.

1. Mia found an injured bird at school.
2. She asked an adult for safe assistance.
3. The bird was taken to someone who could help it.

Think, discuss, and support your ideas with an example.

Fantasy and reality

Reality includes events that can happen in our world.

1. Finding a bird near school is realistic.
2. A bird that talks like a human is fantasy.
3. A story may mix realistic and fantastic elements.

LOOK • THINK • SHARE

Think, discuss, and support your ideas with an example.

Clues for classifying a scene

Look for actions that follow natural possibilities.

1. Real: children plant seeds in a garden.
2. Fantasy: seeds grow into singing castles overnight.
3. Ask: Could this actually happen?

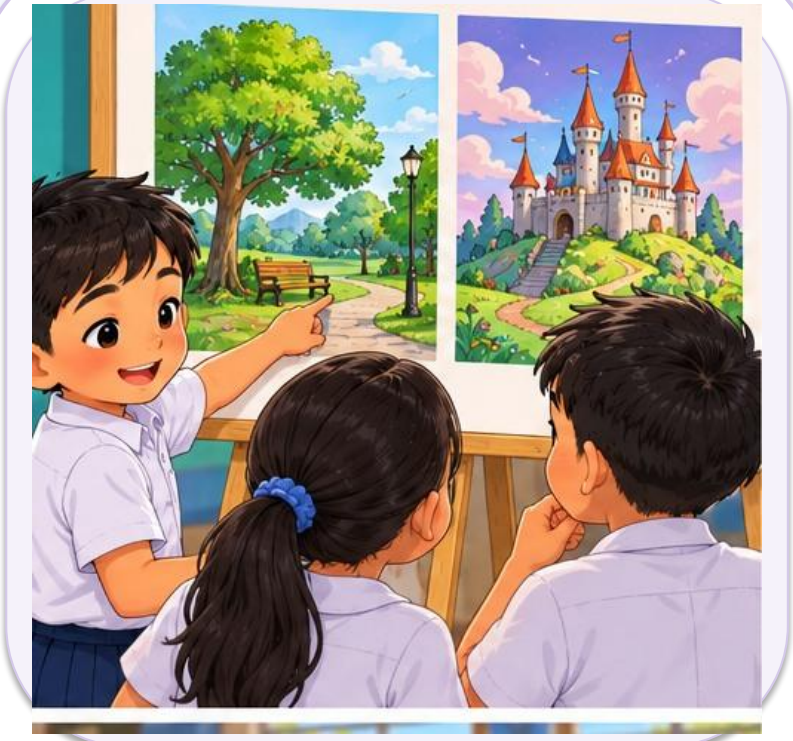

LOOK • THINK • SHARE

Think, discuss, and support your ideas with an example.

Connect the story to yourself

Schema means what you already know or have experienced.

1. Have you ever seen an animal needing help?
2. What safe action did you or an adult take?
3. Use a sentence beginning “This reminds me of...”.

LOOK • THINK • SHARE

Think, discuss, and support your ideas with an example.

Helping verbs

Helping verbs work with a main verb in some sentences.

1. The children are planting seeds.
2. Mia is writing a journal entry.
3. They have finished the poster.

What is narrative writing?

A narrative tells events that happen to characters.

1. It has a beginning, middle, and end.
2. Events usually follow a clear time order.
3. It can tell a real or imagined experience.

LOOK • THINK • SHARE

Think, discuss, and support your ideas with an example.

Introduction, body, conclusion

Organize a story so the reader can follow it.

1. Introduction: introduce characters and setting.
2. Body: describe the problem and important events.
3. Conclusion: explain how things ended and what was learned.

LOOK • THINK • SHARE

Think, discuss, and support your ideas with an example.

Draft a short narrative

Plan a story about helping someone at school.

1. Beginning: who and where?
2. Middle: what happened and what did you do?
3. Ending: how did the problem end?

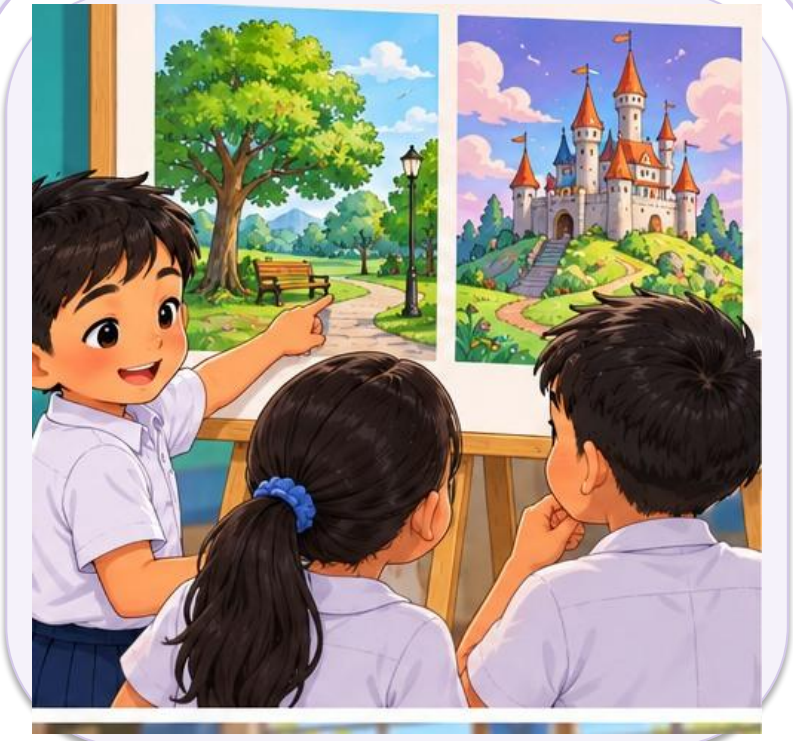

LOOK • THINK • SHARE

Think, discuss, and support your ideas with an example.

Improve your narrative

Reread the draft before sharing it.

What is a visual text?

Pictures, signs, and posters communicate messages.

1. A safety poster may warn about danger.
2. A food poster may teach healthy choices.
3. Ask: Who made it and what is its purpose?

LOOK • THINK • SHARE

Think, discuss, and support your ideas with an example.

Real or make-believe image?

Think critically about what an image shows.

1. Photo of a real playground: possible real scene.
2. Drawing of a flying purple elephant: make-believe.
3. A realistic-looking picture can still show an invented event.

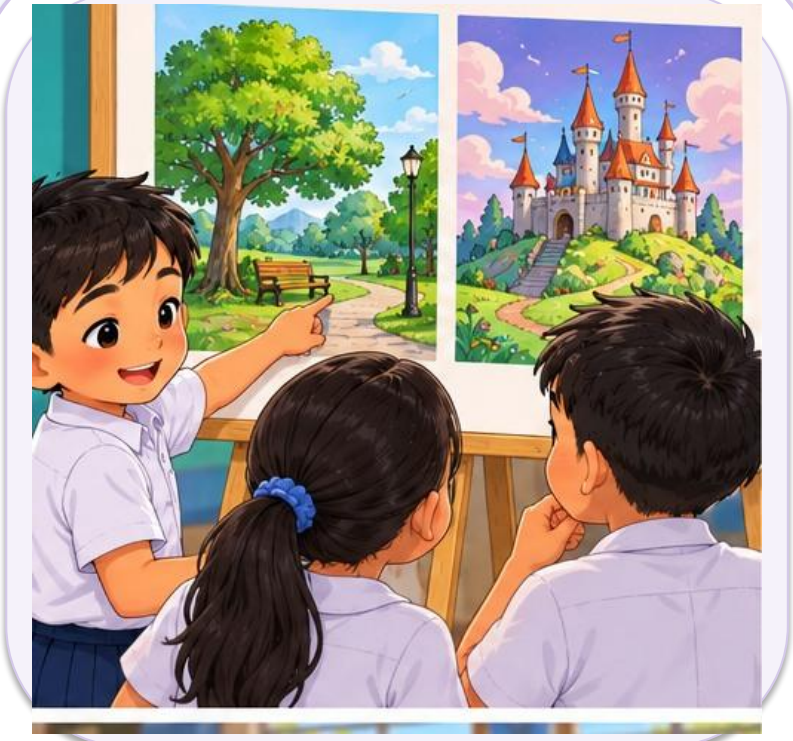

LOOK • THINK • SHARE

Think, discuss, and support your ideas with an example.

Fact, opinion, and visual clues

A fact can be checked with evidence.

1. Fact: a triangle has three sides.
2. Opinion: green is the prettiest color.
3. A picture alone does not prove every claim is factual.

LOOK • THINK • SHARE

Think, discuss, and support your ideas with an example.

Remember the Key Ideas!
